BACHELOR OF ARTS MINOR

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Pacific Asia, including the nation states on the Asian shores of the Pacific Rim – the Koreas, Japan, China, Taiwan, the Philippines, Vietnam, Kampuchea, Thailand, Burma, Laos, Malaysia, Singapore, Brunei Darussalam, and Indonesia – is a region of great economic, political and strategic importance. Possessing immense natural and human resources, Pacific Asia is developing as the most dynamic region of the world. The major is designed to provide students with a coherent introduction to the language, history, and culture of Asian societies on the western rim of the Pacific Basin. The major offers three concentrations: Japanese Studies, Chinese Studies and General Pacific Asian Studies. While focusing on Pacific Asia, the program also supports the study of cultures from the Indian subcontinent and other regions of Asia. Each concentration provides an interdisciplinary understanding of the major social and historical forces at work in the region, supported by appropriate language training. Graduates of the program would either continue their studies at graduate institutions or utilize their knowledge and training through employment in government, business or education relating to this increasingly important region of the world.

The minor offers a student a framework to explore one or more Pacific Asian societies from an interdisciplinary perspective. The minor is an appropriate and timely course of study for any student wishing to better understand an increasingly important region of our world. It is particularly relevant for students in various academic or applied disciplines who have a regional interest in Pacific Asia.
