BACHELOR OF ARTS
BACHELOR OF MUSIC
MUSIC EDUCATION CREDENTIAL
MINOR
MASTER OF MUSIC

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The fundamental purpose of the CSUS music curriculum is threefold: 1) to promote excellence in all aspects of music performance and academic coursework, 2) to provide basic preparation for careers in music, and 3) to promote interest in all musical and artistic endeavors at the University and in the Sacramento community.

The Music Department is affiliated with the College of Arts and Letters and offers the Bachelor of Music degree, the Bachelor of Arts degree, and the Master of Music degree. Majors are available in voice, piano, organ, all orchestral instruments, guitar, and theory-composition. The BM in Music Education leads to the Single Subject Credential. A concentration in Music Management is also available. The MM may be earned with either an academic or performance focus. The department also accepts students wishing to minor in music as well as those wishing to participate in ensembles.

The main emphasis of the Music Department is upon performance. Sustaining this concept is the department's faculty, which remains committed to individual and ensemble performances as a means of enhancing the teaching quality of the institution and the cultural climate of the campus and community.

Students majoring in Music are not only expected to be technically proficient in the art but are required to have broad training in the liberal arts and sciences, which is the core of the University's program.

FEATURES

With all of its degree programs fully accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music, the CSUS Music Department has developed a regional and national reputation as a result of the quality of its faculty and superior achievements of its students and performing ensembles. Each year the Music Department presents a large number of performances to the campus and the greater Sacramento area. These include concerts by the bands, orchestra, jazz ensembles, concert choir, chorus, and opera workshop. Now in its 25th year, the Festival Of New American Music has become an important part of the musical scene in the United States.

In addition, the department has brought to the campus such notable personalities as composers George Crumb, Steve Reich, and Philip Glass; pianists Gilbert Kalish and Robert Taub; the Juilliard Quartet; the Kronos String Quartet; The New York New Music Ensemble; opera stars Beverly Sills and Denyce Graves; and jazz greats Bobby Hutcherson and Peter Erskine. A number of the music faculty have written textbooks; several are composers with numerous performances to their credit; others perform quite frequently.

After an initial session with the department's admissions advisors, the student will be assigned to an applied instructor for future advising. The advising process is greatly enhanced by the regular weekly contact between student and instructor/advisor.

Additional BA and BM Requirements

The following are required for the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Music degree programs:

- Upon entering the music major, each student is required to: 1) declare his/her major performance medium (instrument or voice); 2) perform an entering placement audition before the appropriate applied faculty; and 3) continue the development of his/her performance ability through regular study in accordance with departmental requirements. This development in performance is demonstrated at end-of-semester auditions before the applied music faculty. See applied music numbers for appropriate courses.
- Each student in the BA program of sophomore standing or above should appear as a soloist in at least one student recital or repertoire class each semester. Students in the BM program must do either a repertoire class performance or one student recital each semester.
- As an ensemble experience, each student must participate in at least one large performing ensemble each semester. The following groups meet this requirement: symphonic band, concert band, marching band, opera workshop, orchestra, concert choir, or university chorus. Assignment to the performing ensemble(s) is to be made in consultation with the music major advisor and by audition. MUSC 142 is the appropriate course in which to register.

4. All undergraduate students majoring in music must have basic facility in piano to graduate from the University. For students other than keyboard majors, completion of MUSC 014D meets this requirement.
5. Each music major is required to attend a minimum of 10 concerts and/or recitals each semester. MUSC 100 meets this requirement.
6. Teaching credential candidates must also complete the Professional Education Program in addition to the BM Music Education requirements. See the College of Education section of this catalog for admission procedures and consult the department credential advisor for details.
7. Wind and percussion majors who are credential candidates must include at least one semester of marching band (MUSC 142M) as their Large Performance Ensemble experience.

- (1) MUSC 025 Voice for Music Theatre (Instructor permission and proficiency examination)
- (1) MUSC 027 Beginning Voice
- (1) MUSC 038D Beginning Hand Drums
- (1) MUSC 038S Beginning Shakuhachi
- (1) MUSC 039 Beginning Folk Guitar
- (1) MUSC 040 Beginning Instruments OR
- (2) MUSC 151 Fundamentals of Conducting
Applied Music for 2 units with departmental and area approval.

Large Ensemble Experience

- Select 3 units from:
- Any MUSC 142 - Music Ensemble: Large Performance Groups
- (1) MUSC 100 Concert Attendance (1 unit only)
 - (1) MUSC 143J Jazz Ensemble
 - (1) MUSC 145 Pep Band (Corequisite: MUSC 142W, MUSC 142B, or MUSC 142M, or instructor permission)

Students seeking supplementary authorization for single subject, standard secondary and special secondary teaching credentials must register for one unit each of instrumental and vocal instruction in the beginning musical instruction section. Qualified students may audition for applied musical instruction as a substitution in this area.

Note: The last 3 units in performance must be taken at CSUS.

MINOR REQUIREMENTS

Minimum of 20 units required (9 units upper division required) selected from:

Theory

- Select 6 units from:

- (1) MUSC 017 Voice Class

GRADUATE PROGRAM

The graduate program leading to the Master of Music degree is designed to provide opportunity for a variety of advanced studies in music. The objective of the program is to produce a graduate student skilled in research, able in organizational and writing skills, and imaginative in developing new approaches and concepts: a student who, with a broad knowledge of the history and literature of music, is able to use this knowledge with effective musicality as a performer, conductor, or music educator.

The MM may be earned with either an academic or a performance emphasis. The program will effectively prepare students for continuation into doctoral study. Students may focus their studies in one of five areas:

Conducting, Composition, Music Education, Music History and Literature, Performance.

Further information about all aspects of the program is contained in the Graduate Studies Handbook, available upon request from the Music Department office. Prospective students are advised to request this document.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the graduate program in Music is initially granted with conditionally classified graduate status if the applicant meets the following requirements:

- a baccalaureate degree with a music major
- a minimum 3.0 GPA in the last 60 units
- satisfactory completion of the GRE Basic Exam
- two letters of reference (non-CSUS students)
- successful audition or composition portfolio review, if applicable

Fully classified graduate status is granted after successful completion of nine units of graduate work. The student must file for a change in status, using a form available from the Music Department's Graduate Coordinator.

Admission Procedures

Applications are accepted as long as room for new students exists. Students are strongly urged to apply by April 1 for the following Fall or October 1 for the following Spring in order to allow time for admission before Computer Access Student Phone Entry Registration. All prospective graduate students, including CSUS graduates, must file the following with the Graduate Center:

- an application for admission and a supplemental application for graduate admission (Forms A and B in the CSU application booklet); and
- two sets of official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended, other than CSUS.

Approximately six weeks after receipt of all items listed above, a decision regarding admission will be mailed to the applicant.

Advancement to Candidacy

Each fully classified graduate student must file an application for Advancement to Candidacy, indicating a proposed program of graduate study. This procedure should begin as soon as the student has:

- completed approximately 15 units of graduate study, including MUSC 201 and two other 200-level courses, with a minimum of 3.0 GPA
- received approval from supervising faculty to enter courses leading to MUSC 500, Culminating Experience (see Graduate Studies Handbook for details).

Advancement to Candidacy forms are available in the Graduate Center. Instructions are found in Part II of the Graduate Studies Handbook.

Degree Requirements

The Master of Music requires completion of 30 units of coursework, chosen in consultation with a Music Department graduate advisor, with a minimum 3.0 GPA. Majors must complete each required course with a grade "C-" or better. An outline of degree requirements follows.

A. Core Requirements (9 units)

- (4) MUSC 220* Performance Techniques (Approval by area applied music committee to enter performance option for the MM; instructor permission)
- (2) MUSC 285 Graduate Recital (Permission to enter Performance option and approval of Music Department Graduate Studies Committee)
- (1) MUSC 500B Project – recital and paper OR
- MUSC 500C Second Recital
- (6) Music History OR Music Theory
- (2) Electives

* Courses are one unit each, to be taken four times for a total of 4 units per course.

Optional Support Field

From 3 to 5 units in fields other than Music may apply toward the degree with approval of the Music Department graduate committee. Students should have at least 10 upper division units in this field as preparation. Normally the supporting field units are on the graduate level. Supporting fields currently approved for music majors are Education, Humanities and Religious Studies, Modern Languages, and Theater Arts. In the case of Music Education, courses which are part of the credential requirements may not be included.

Foreign Language

A foreign language is required for the Music History and Literature Concentration. Students who plan further graduate study in all other concentrations are encouraged to take courses in French, German, or Italian, since proficiency in one of these is usually required in doctoral programs.

PERFORMER'S CERTIFICATE

The Performer's Certificate is a post-master's level program designed to attract highly qualified instrumentalist, vocalists, and conductors. Instruction is at an advanced level for very talented and dedicated performers who have completed graduate programs or who are found acceptable into this program through a very competitive audition.

A. Required Courses (22 units)

- (8) Select one of the following course pairs:
 MUSC 217A Choral Conducting Applied Music for 4 units AND
 MUSC 218A Choral Conducting Techniques for 4 units OR

 (2) MUSC 299 Special Problems (Approval of the faculty member under whom the work is to be conducted and the Department Chair)
- (3) Graduate Music Electives* **
 * May include serving as assistant to Director
  May be taken during Summer/January sessions

LOWER DIVISION COURSES

MUSC 001. Musicianship I. Basic aural skills and practical applications of the rhythmic, melodic, and harmonic materials needed to perform, teach, and compose music. Class activities will focus around the musicianship skills of rhythmic reading and dictation, identification and dictation of intervals and triads, melodic dictation, contrapuntal dictation, harmonic dictation, and sight singing. Prerequisite: MUSC 005. Corequisite: MUSC 006. 2 units.

MUSC 002. Musicianship II. Advanced aural skills and practical applications of the rhythmic, melodic, and harmonic materials needed to perform, teach, and compose music. Class activities will focus around the musicianship skills of rhythmic reading and dictation, melodic dictation, contrapuntal dictation, harmonic dictation, aural analysis of form, and sight singing. Prerequisite: MUSC 001 Corequisite: MUSC 007. 2 units.

MUSC 003. MIDI Sequencing and Notation. An introduction to computer-based synthesizer programming and control procedures and computer generation of printed music. Topics include basic MIDI principles, creating, performing, and printing music using computer-based sequencing and notation software. 3 units.

MUSC 004. Elements of Music. Introduction in music theory and musicianship. No previous musical training is assumed. Objectives are: to understand the meaning of musical notation and terminology; to acquire some skill in translating musical notation into sound and vice versa; to understand the rudiments of musical structure and syntax (rhythm and meter, scales and keys, intervals and chords, basic aspects of musical design) both on paper and as a listener; and to put these elements to some creative use. 3 units.

MUSC 005. Beginning Theory. A beginning theory course for music majors designed to provide a thorough study of the basis of tonal music. Includes scales, diatonic triads, melody, voice-leading, and simple harmonic progressions as well as correlative work in ear training and sight singing. Prerequisite: Placement by exam. 3 units.

MUSC 006. Intermediate Theory. An intermediate course in music theory that builds on the contents of MUSC 005. Includes stylistic analysis, diatonic seventh chords, modulation, secondary dominant chords, and simple formal structures. An aural skills component emphasizes melodic and harmonic dictation of music associated with the harmonic devices studied. Prerequisite: MUSC 005 Corequisite: MUSC 001. 3 units.

MUSC 007. Advanced Theory. An advanced class in tonal theory that includes the study of enriched harmonic resources of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries as well as an introduction to counterpoint and large musical forms.
