

SOCIAL SCIENCE

BACHELOR OF ARTS SUBJECT MATTER PROGRAM

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Social Science major is offered by the Departments of Anthropology, Economics, Geography, Government, History, Psychology and Sociology. It is designed to serve both as a major for the bachelor's degree and to provide subject matter preparation for the Single Subject Teacher Credential in Social Science.

To qualify for a teaching credential, candidates must also complete an approved Professional Education Program and other requirements as specified by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing.

Since the Social Science program involves work in several departments and since special rules on overlap with general education apply to this program, advising is essential to the efficient completion of the program.

Note: The program herein presented has been approved by the Commission on Teacher Credentialing. Anyone working on the social science program printed in earlier catalogs should be aware of the following: as long as one retains catalog rights, the earlier social science program may still be completed for a degree. However, to be valid as subject matter preparation for a credential, all requirements under the old program must be completed by January 1, 1998.

FACULTY ADVISORS

Richard Kornweibel, Social Science Coordinator
Margaret Goodard, History; Richard Kornweibel, History
Program Office, Math/History 137, 278-6207

FEATURES

Although the aim of the Social Science program is directed toward the teacher credential, the program also provides an opportunity for students to build on the foundation of their general education and become familiar with several areas in the Social Sciences. Non-credential students need not complete the professional education program and elective courses may be taken to complete the 124-unit Bachelor of Arts degree.

Note: One of the Social Science major patterns called the 21-9-9 plan has been discontinued as of the end of Spring semester, 1988. Only students with continuous enrollment from Spring 1988 or prior semesters and who had a declared major in the 21-9-9 pattern may continue and complete that program.

The Social Science MA program was discontinued as of the end of Spring semester, 1990. Only students admitted to the program no later than Spring 1990 may continue and finish the program.

CAREER POSSIBILITIES

Middle School or High School Teacher of Civics, Economics, and History and Culture • School Administrator • Lawyer • Writer • Research and Development Specialist • Advertising Analyst • Counselor • Director of Communications • Project Director • Lobbyist